

Mount Rainier National Park

Nisqually to Paradise Road Construction Update

Wayside Notes

The historic Nisqually to Paradise Road is the most common entry to Mount Rainier National Park. Like most roads that you travel, it too, requires maintenance and periodic repairs. Due to adverse winter weather road work must occur during the busy summer season.

This year the majority of work will occur between Longmire and Paradise with some work taking place between Nisqually Entrance and Longmire.

The road continually endures impacts from thousands of cars, buses, and RVs. It sustains damage from freezing, thawing, and rain. The road is also impacted by fallen trees and river erosion.

Improvements to the road will preserve its integrity as a popular and historic scenic drive and provide continued safe access for years to come.

Just the Facts: Nisqually Glacier to Paradise

When it was first travelled in its entirety in 1911, the upper sections of this stretch of road were considered too hazardous for some visitors. A sign was posted warning, "Boys under 21 and women will not be permitted to drive automobiles between Nisqually Glacier Bridge and Paradise Valley"!

What to Expect

- CLOSURES this week include the Paradise Valley Road (does not affect access to Paradise), Kautz Creek Picnic Area, and Christine Falls parking lot.
- Paving continues between Nisqually Entrance and Longmire.
- Trenching continues below Paradise on the Nisqually-Paradise Road.
- Know Before You Go. Expect delays during daylight hours, Monday through Friday. Currently no work is scheduled for Saturday or Sunday.
- Be Prepared. Expect delays up to 15 minutes at each stop. Total construction delays should not exceed 30 minutes between Nisqually Entrance and Paradise.
- Plan Ahead. Restroom facilities are located at Longmire, Narada Falls, and Paradise.
